How we leverage your investment

A note from David Fleming, CEO

You are a pioneer. Like us, you believe in what makes Birmingham great and are eager to support the things that make it even better. Thank you for your role in helping REV create vibrant places in 2018.

REV is leveraging your investment to drive equitable entrepreneurship, from Woodlawn Street Market to downtown redevelopment; improve design of public spaces, the filling of vacant spaces, and a community of downtown revitalization. In 2018, REV continued to support small business growth and helped hundreds of developers and entrepreneurs to drive change across the city.

REV has leveraged $2 billion in downtown redevelopment, and 3,000 new residents call the City Center home. REV is proud to have worked with hundreds of developers and entrepreneurs to drive change across the city in 2018, with our financial strategies built on robust stakeholder input. REV will deliver more place-based impact than ever.

REV is now concentrating its energy in three business districts. In Ensley, REV is facilitating the inclusive redevelopment of the Ramsay McCormack building, providing affordable and additional catalytic properties in Ensley. REV is also concentrating its energy in the downtown area and the Woodland Borough. In 2019, REV will deliver more place-based impact than ever.

We help developers

DEVELOP BIRMINGHAM

REV invests time to support the creation and growth of businesses that fill vacant spaces and bring vibrant commercial districts to life.

REV works with developers to identify opportunities and navigate incentives and issues related to revitalization.

We invigorate

BUSINESS DISTRICTS

We heard from more stakeholders than ever in 2018 and designed robust 2019 plans for downtown, Woodlawn and Ensley centered around that input.

In 2018, REV took on management of the CAP program, whose Safety Ambassadors are downtown for you to keep the area clean and safe.
